Thousands Pass By Casket Of Herbert Hoover

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a slow, steady stream Americans honored their 31st president today, filing past the body of Herbert Clark Hoover in its flag-draped casket under the Capitol dome.

A brilliant autumn sun shining through the dome's high windows lighted the cavernous rotunda and the picturelike pageantry of a fallen American leader lying in state.

Splendor In Colors

The bright hues of the flag, the flowers, and the full dress uniforms of the honor guard standing motionless around the casket touched the solemn scene with splendor under the slanting rays of sunlight.

Hoover, who died Tuesday in New York at the age of 90, is to be buried Sunday afternoon in his native Iowa. His body, brought to Washington Friday, remained at the Capitol throughout the day.

Some Too Young

Filing in from both sides, from the Senate side and the House side, came the citizens who knew and remembered, and the citizens too young to know. They came, as one of them said, to pay honor "not only to him personally, but to the office."

Not more than four blocks away, at Washington's Union Station, the special train had arrived at about 1:35 p.m., and the sad ritual, practiced to precision, began.

President Johnson and his wife, the Hoover family, the many friends including former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, moved slowly through the cordon of the escort — the Marines with red-striped trousers, the gold stripe of Army, the blue-white of Air Force, the white sea caps of Navy, the black of Coast Guard.

Paces before the official party, the young military men snapped to salute. And then came the long interval while the flag-draped casket was handed down from the train and the salute again as it passed.

Then, outside the station: The horse-drawn caisson to carry the casket, the riderless black horse with the boots reversed in the stirrups, the gray sound of the dirge, and the slow-forming procession of black limousines, stretching nearly the four blocks to the Capitol.

Ex-Presidents Absent

And then: The sheen of the bayonets of the ranks of armed men along the way, the deafening roar of the saluting cannon that shake leaves from trees with their call, the black wreaths of exhaust left in the sky by 50 military jets, the melting away of the crowd, and the final arrival.

In the rotunda, the important and varied people of government had gathered. There were senators: Thruston Morton of Kentucky, Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, John J. Williams of Delaware, Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota. There were Secretaries of State Dean Rusk and former secretary of state Christian Herter. There were also stenographers and clerks.

Not present were former presidents Dwight D. Eisenhower and Harry S. Truman. Eisenhower, 74, was recovering from a moderately severe inflammation of the respiratory tract at Washington's Walter Reed Hospital, and Truman, 80, was just out of a hospital recovering from injuries in a fall.

There were wreaths and

Staebler Rally Brings $45,000

DETROIT (AP)—A thousand Michigan Democrats—including three former governors—patted their gubernatorial candidate on the back Friday night and fattened his campaign wallet by more than $45,000.

Former Govs. G. Mennen Williams, John Swainson and Murray Van Wagoner attended a $50-a-plate dinner which attracted the elite of the party even though the principal speaker—Democratic vice presidential candidate Hubert Humphrey—was not able to attend.

And although the party oratory was aimed chiefly at praising Staebler's record as a party leader and potential as governor, much of it was trained on his Republican opponent, Gov. George Romney.

Staebler, after praising the dinner as one of the greatest gatherings of Democrats in history, jabbed at Romney for failing to recognize the state's needs.

"We are not meeting our needs," he said, "but Romney thinks we are...when his primary obligation as governor is to point out these needs to the people."

State Of Texas Invaded Today By Goldwater

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, set to invade President Johnson's home state of Texas today, says it is common talk that the White House is mixed up in "questionable activities."

The Republican presidential candidate, after briefly aiming his campaign fire at the case of resigned presidential aide Walter Jenkins, turned his sights on the affairs of former Democratic Senate secretary Bobby Baker in San Diego Friday night.

"I do not see how an effective force for law and order can be forthcoming from the White House when it is a common assumption in the length and breadth of the land that the White House itself involved in questionable activities," he told an estimated 12,000 people in the local baseball park.

Today Goldwater flies to Austin, Tex. — 60 miles from the President's LB ranch — to kick off a day of campaigning that also will carry him to Corpus Christi and Wichita Falls.

"I'll just kick the beer cans out of the way and off we'll go," Goldwater said, needing Johnson about stories that the President sipped beer as he drove with newsmen along the highways near his home.

Goldwater told his San Diego audience Johnson should have seen to it that a grand jury looked into the affairs of Baker, who quit amid charges he used improper influence in outside business dealings.

The Jenkins case popped into Goldwater's campaign at Rico Rivera, near Los Angeles, as the senator launched a five-hour whistle stop tour. After that he dropped it.

"I wish the issue weren't there, myself," he said. But Goldwater said the case revealed "careless disregard of security procedures."

Sen. Humphrey Campaigning In Detroit Today

By The Associated Press
Democratic vice presidential candidate Hubert H. Humphrey scheduled a day of campaigning in Michigan today, highlighting the weekend's state political activities.

The Minnesota senator was due to make a campaign swing through shopping centers in Southfield and Taylor Township and to speak at a rally in Hamtramck.

Michigan's two top Democratic candidates, U.S. Sen. Philip Hart and Rep. Neil Staebler, the gubernatorial nominee, were to accompany Humphrey on the Detroit-area tour.

Humphrey had planned to arrive Friday night for a Staebler fund-raising dinner but changed his plans to attend the funeral in Washington, D.C., of former President Herbert C. Hoover.

Former Gov. G. Mennen Williams, now assistant secretary of state for African affairs, took over as toastmaster for the $50-a-plate affair.

Earlier Friday, Staebler campaigned in southeastern Michigan, telling a Mount Clemens audience of party workers that his Republican opponent, Gov. George Romney, must be defeated "now."

Staebler said Romney is a possible U.S. Senate candidate in 1966 and a possible presidential candidate in 1968.

"And he will be harder to beat every time," Staebler said.

Big Crowds Gather
Romney canvassed the Detroit area before flying to Traverse City for handshaking and an evening speech. On nine stops in northwest Detroit, he spoke to some of the biggest shopping center crowds of his campaign.

At nursing homes he said "any senior citizen in Michigan who needs medical and hospital attention can get it," but adding that even more financial assistance is needed.

He told groups of teachers his administration had given the state a $52 million increase in school aid and increased support for universities and community colleges.

Hart's opponent, Mrs. Elly Peterson, accompanied Romney.

Navy Pilot Leaps To Safety As Jet Rams Mountain

WILLIAMSBURG, Ky. (AP) — A Navy pilot parachuted to safety Friday when his single engine A4C Skyhawk jet fighter crashed into a mountaintop south of here on the Tennessee-Kentucky line.

Cmdr. Loran Craney, 42, Patuxent Naval Air Station, Md., was picked up by a Tennessee Highway Patrol helicopter after making his way to a nearby house.

The Federal Aviation Agency at Knoxville, Tenn., said Craney was on a cross-country flight out of Patuxent when the craft's engine, in the pilot's words, "just froze up."

Johnson Quits White House To Look For Votes

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, poised for the stretch drive of the campaign, is expected to spend almost all his time away from the White House until the Nov. 3 election.

Johnson, who was away from Washington looking for votes only one of the last seven days, makes two separate campaign trips today and will embark on a third Sunday.

The President took off at 9:58 a.m. EDT today for an outdoor rally at Memphis, Tenn. He will go from there to Chattanooga for an airport rally before returning to Washington.

Bound For Dixie

Then, after a 2½ hour stop-over at the White House, Johnson is scheduled to fly to Baltimore by helicopter for an evening motorcade and a speech at a Democratic fund-raising dinner.

Johnson will spend the night at the White House and take off Sunday for a two-day tour of Florida, Georgia and South Carolina.

The President had planned to spend most of this week on the road. But he revised his schedule after the Soviet Union changed governments and Communist China staged its first nuclear test. Then he canceled some other tentative campaign plans to participate in memorial observances for former President Herbert Hoover.

Sale of TVA Mentioned

In his one previous campaign appearance in Tennessee — in Nashville earlier this month — large and enthusiastic crowds greeted him and cheered when he assailed Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater for having suggested the sale of the steam generating plants and fertilizer factories of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Johnson also made an earlier appearance in Baltimore.

The President will fly Sunday to the Florida cities of Fort Lauderdale, Boca Raton, Miami and Orlando. He'll spend the night in Orlando, center of a burgeoning space industry.

Monday, the President will make additional appearances in Florida — at places yet to be announced — and then stop in Georgia and South Carolina before returning to the White House for the night.

Swiss Arrest Argentine Spy

BERN, Switzerland (AP) — The Swiss government has arrested an Argentine citizen on charges he spied for the Soviet Union in Switzerland for eight years.

The department of justice announced the arrest Friday but did not name the man, who was identified as a key member of the Argentine Communist Party. It accused him of passing Swiss military secrets to the Russians and acting as a contact man for Soviet agents in Western Europe.

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — A sharp earthquake shook Taipei today. Buildings shuddered under the impact, windows rattled and lights swung but there were no immediate reports of damage or casualties.

Peking Gains No Prestige As Nuclear Power

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is confident Communist China again will fail to achieve admission to the United Nations despite Peking's new status as a nuclear power.

State Department officials, disclosing this, say a present tally of the U.N. membership shows the votes on Peking's admission will be close to last year's count, perhaps with more abstentions.

In 1963 of the 110 votes recorded, 41 favored an Albanian resolution to admit Communist China, 57 were opposed and there were 12 abstentions. One nation, Ethiopia, was absent.

When the question arises this year, France and some of her former colonies in Africa, now independent, undoubtedly will support the seating of Peking. Last year France voted for admission and most of her former colonies against admission.

Two-Thirds Required

To change the Chinese representation from the present Nationalist government to the Communist regime would take a two-thirds vote.

U.S. officials are preparing a blistering condemnation of what they call a "double standard" attitude, that Peking's ability to explode a nuclear device should bring automatic admission to the United Nations.

One official explained the U.S. point of view this way:

"We have paid our bills to the United Nations, but if the Soviets were to pay their bill tomorrow, some people would clap their hands and say what fine fellows they are."

"If we had exploded a nuclear bomb in the atmosphere last week there would have been talk there of throwing the U.S. out of the U.N. But when the Chinese Communists explode their first nuclear device, there are those who say it is time now that we bring them into the U.N."

Propaganda Gesture

Meanwhile, the United States is skeptical that the Chinese Communist proposal for a world summit meeting to discuss abolition of nuclear weapons is more than a propaganda gesture.

However, the State Department made clear Friday, channels are open for any negotiations the Chinese Communists may wish to conduct on nuclear controls.

The British, French and Soviet governments have embassies in Peking and the United States conducts talks from time to time through the Chinese Communist ambassador in Warsaw.

State Department Press Officer Robert J. McCloskey said these channels could be used for a dialogue with the Chinese Communists on the subject of nuclear controls.

If a majority of the 17-nation Geneva Conference on Disarmament which meets under U.N. sponsorship should want Communist China to participate in deliberations early next year, it would be all right with the United States if China were invited, he said.

Test Ban Rejected

The State Department takes the view that any nuclear disarmament talks would require the participation of all nuclear countries, just as conventional disarmament would require all significant military powers to participate.

In Louisville Friday Adlai E. Stevenson, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, said the United States might look more favorably on the Red Chinese proposal for a nuclear summit conference if the Peking regime signed the limited nuclear test-ban treaty.

Neither Red China nor France among the world's five nuclear powers has signed the treaty, to which more than 100 nations have agreed. The Red Chinese this week reiterated their refusal to sign.

Top Red Groups Want Details Of Kremlin Purge

PARIS (AP) — Western Europe's two biggest Communist parties, dissatisfied with explanations of Nikita Khrushchev's ouster, are sending delegations to the Soviet Union to learn more about last week's Kremlin shakeup.

The mounting unrest over what happened to the former Soviet leader has spread to Cuba, where top party leaders are whispering that the Soviets should set the record straight.

The French Communist party, second largest in the West behind Italy's, sends a three-man delegation to Moscow today. It is one of several that will visit the Soviet capital on behalf of European Communist parties sympathetic to Khrushchev and dismayed over his ouster.

The Italian Communist party has also said its representatives would meet soon with the Soviet party's Central Committee, which voted Khrushchev out of office.

The small Austrian Communist party announced in Vienna Friday that it would send a delegation to Moscow Monday. The party criticized the new leadership for the "sparse and unsatisfactory" information regarding the change.

In Havana, members of Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government began passing the word privately Friday that they want a full explanation too.

They praised Khrushchev in conversations with newsmen and said that the Kremlin should publish full details to dispel what one called false impressions left by the surprise action.

However, top leaders who were personally friendly with Khrushchev said they were certain that his ouster would not result in a change in Soviet-Cuban relations.

Khrushchev has been indirectly denounced but not by name since the announcement eight days ago that Leonid I. Brezhnev had replaced him as Communist party boss and Alexei N. Kosygin had taken over as premier.

Soviet Culture Minister Ekaterina Furtseva said Friday, however, that the former ruler was living in Moscow.

Maryland Prison Riot Squelched; Cells Wrecked

JESSUP, Md. (AP) — Defiant inmates at the Maryland House of Correction rioted Friday night but ended their rampage when 100 state police herded them back into their cells.

The prisoners jammed locks, burned clothes, mattresses and blankets, drenched ceilings below by ripping out plumbing, and threw furniture and debris from their four-tiered cell houses.

Vernon L. Peppersack, state commissioner of correction, estimated the damage at $50,000 but said it might be greater.

Four inmates suffered minor head injuries from objects dropped or thrown from tiers above. They were treated at the prison infirmary.

Guards Rescued

Lt. Col. George Davidson, chief of operations of the Maryland State Police, led the troopers into the two cell houses and a dormitory where about half the 1,783 inmates ran loose. Peppersack estimated that only 200 inmates had been involved in the most serious part of the rioting.

A dozen guards who had barricaded themselves in cells when the rioting started were rescued by the troopers, who wore steel helmets, carried long riot sticks and shotguns.

The rioting started when an inmate became disorderly during the first feeding at dinner. He punched a guard and was removed.

"There was a rumble at the time," Peppersack said, "but we got the men quieted down, and they returned to their cells." The rioting resumed after the second feeding, however, and continued for almost three hours.

British Regime Wants Cutback In World Fleet

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson's new Labor government — reluctant to join the U.S.-sponsored mixed-manned nuclear Atlantic fleet — is studying a compromise plan, government sources say.

Foreign secretary Patrick Gordon Walker may present it to U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk when the two meet next week in Washington.

As originally proposed, the United States envisioned a North Atlantic Treaty Organization force of 25 warships roaming the seas, each armed with 8 polaris missiles. The British compromise would reportedly cut back the force to 12 ships.

The troopers took police dogs with them into the cell houses.

"The dogs, clubs and gas were never used," said Davidson. "It was a show of force, and we made an impression on the prisoners. We had it if we needed it. Our first objective was to find the hostages."

He referred to the guards who had barricaded themselves in cells.

One of the guards who locked himself in was John F. Folker, who barricaded himself in a cell in Section E-2 on the second tier of the east wing, then joined another guard, John C. Sparks, in a utility tunnel, where they huddled behind a metal door.

"Come out of there," he said to the prisoners shouted at them. "You won't leave here alive."

Folker said he was punched and his wallet with $60 was taken before he found refuge. Peppersack said there had been no sign of smoldering discontent.

Soviet Leader On Peace Trip?

MOSCOW (AP) — Mikhail Suslov dropped out of sight Friday and there was immediate speculation the Soviet Union's top Communist theoretician was heading a peace mission to Peking.

But there was no confirmation of reports among diplomats that Suslov, 61, had gone calling on Mao Tse-tung. Suslov has not appeared to be in good health lately, and some sources suggested his absence from the Red Square funeral of Marshal Sergei S. Biryuzov might be due to illness. Biryuzov, chief of staff and deputy defense minister, was killed in a Yugoslav air crash.

Suslov, a tall, solemn-featured man who has also built a reputation as a Kremlin hatchman presided at last week's meeting of the Soviet party's Central Committee at which Nikita Khrushchev's fate was decided.

Now publicly ranked No. 4 behind new Party First Secretary Leonid I. Brezhnev, Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and President Anastas I. Mikoyan, Suslov is called the real power in the new Kremlin lineup by some observers.

His background and role as the Kremlin's top expert on the bitter Soviet-Red China dispute would make him a logical choice for a Russian move toward smoothing over relations with the Peking regime.

Romney Names Human Resources Planning Group

Gov. Romney today announced the appointment of the Human Resources Council, which he created by Executive Order on Aug. 26.

"This Council will function as a true 'Commission on Michigan's Future,'" Governor Romney stated. "Its formation is a landmark event in the history of Michigan state government."

"Its purpose is to draw together, into one forum, top leaders of the executive branch and some of Michigan's most distinguished citizens, for joint action and planning in developing and using our human and social potential private and public," the Governor said.

"The Human Resources Council is a new and vitally important arm of state government, which will have far-reaching significance for the people of Michigan for years to come," Governor Romney stated.

The new Council will help coordinate state efforts and encourage private initiative in solving human problems—correcting social, physical, and mental ills—with initial emphasis on anti-poverty programs and executive branch reorganization plans.

Membership of the Council falls into three categories: Heads of major state agencies in the human resources area, chairmen of Governor's Special Commissions dealing with specific human resources problems, and citizens-at-large.

Governor Romney had previously announced the appointment of Edward L. Cushman, Dearborn, vice president and director, American Motors Corp. as chairman of the council. Malcolm R. Chairmen of Governor's special commissions: Herman Cameron, Brimley, Governor's Commission on Indian Affairs; Mrs. Paul Goebel, Grand Rapids, Commission on the Status of Women; Dan Karn, Jackson, Citizens' Committee on Higher Education; Judson Perkins, Muskegon, Commission for Employment of the Handicapped; Miss Rosemary Scott, Grand Rapids, Michigan Youth Commission; Mrs. Seth Tamplings, Traverse City, Governor's Commission on Migrant Labor; Myron E. Wegman, M. D., Ann Arbor, Governor's Action Committee on Health Care.

Heads of state agencies: Glenn S. Allen Jr., state controller; Lynn M. Bartlett, superintendent of public instruction; Joseph A. Childs, Commissioner, Michigan State Police; Bernard M. Conboy, director, Department of Economic Expansion; Burton I. Gordin, executive director, Civil Rights Commission; Gus Harrison, director, Department of Corrections; Albert E. Heustis, M. D., director, Department of Mental Health; Ralph A. MacMullan, director, Department of Conservation; Thomas Roumell, director, Michigan Employment Security Commission.

Members of the Human Resources Council serve at the pleasure of the Governor, who said that several additional appointments to the Council are pending and will be announced shortly.

Delta Charities Aids Program Of Camp Fire Girls

The Camp Fire Girls, the oldest organization of its kind in the world, depends in Delta County for the financing of its program through the support the public gives United Charities, whose fund-raising campaign is now under way.

Delta United Charities has as its goal the raising of $50,000 to finance the operations of its eight member agencies in the year ahead. The goal is the same as a year ago.

The other agencies the DUC provides with funds through the generosity of the public are:

Salvation Army, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, School For Retarded Children, Child Guidance Clinic, Bay Cliff Health Camp, and the Red Cross.

The Camp Fire Girls was started in 1910 as a camping program by Dr. and Mrs. Luther Halsey Gulick, reported a spokesman.

"Since the out of doors reminds us of our American Indian, quite a good deal of this heritage is kept alive as the girls earn their different ranks in Camp Fire Girls," it was reported.

"The Camp Fire Girls have always participated in whatever group form of united giving the county sponsors. Last year through the Delta United Charities this county did a magnificent job and again the Camp Fire Girls are happy to again be a part of this program. Last year many of our girls had an opportunity to go to Clear Lake Camp. This is wonderful experience for any young lady. The girls also have an opportunity to learn bowling at an early age and at a fee which doesn't amount to much more than the same youngster might spend at the theatre," the Camp Fire Girls spokesmen said.

"Francis Lueneburg has been helping girls in archery. We feel that it is an excellent opportunity for all children. Other citizens interested in promoting the use of the bow and arrow have also helped teach the girls."

This year as special projects the girls plan to visit a mink

Trash And Leaf Burning Banned In City Streets

The burning of leaves and trash in the streets or alleys, whether paved or unpaved, is prohibited by City Ordinance, Escanaba Fire Chief Nels Bergeson warned today in commenting on the danger of outdoor fires.

In burning trash or leaves placed them in an approved metal burner with a heavy spark arrester on top, and away from buildings, fences or overhanging branches, he said. Clear a strip of earth around the fire to prevent its spread and don't light fires on a windy day.

Children should be kept a safe distance away from fires, and it should be guarded until it is out. To make sure the fire is out, drench it with water and sprinkle water a second time, the fire chief advised.

If you allow any fire to become so large or so intense that the fire is not within complete control or allow such a fire to injure, damage or ignite any building, building structure, ornamental shrubbery, trees or hedges, or any other property, you can be held responsible for smoke and fire damage.

If a person is in doubt about the hazard of a fire he is urged to call the Fire Department for advice before making what could be a tragic mistake, the fire chief said.

Governor Brings $250,000 Check For State Office

Gov. George Romney started his stretch drive for re-election with an airborne sweep across northern Michigan today.

A seven-city vote-seeking siege began at Traverse City Friday night as the governor hit harder yet with his declaration that Michigan government should not be turned over to a man and party who have opposed the state's new constitution.

Romney, accompanied by other state and local Republican candidates, planned to visit Menominee, Iron Mountain, Escanaba, Sault Ste. Marie, Cheboygan and Alpena today for plant-gate visits, radio interviews, shopping area tours, rallies and speeches.

Escanaba Visit

Governor Romney was scheduled to arrive at Escanaba Airport at 12:10 p. m. today with his tour party, bearing a $250,000 State check to pay for purchase of the State Office Building from the City of Escanaba.

The Governor, State Controller Glenn Allen and other members of the party were to go from the airport, after a public welcome there, to the State Office Building for a transfer ceremony with Mayor George Rusch, City Manager George Harvey and City Controller Frank Bourke participating and then greet citizens in a sidewalk tour on Ludington St., and visit the Escanaba-Kingsford football game to start it at 2 p. m.

He was to fly on to Sault Ste. Marie after the Escanaba Athletic Field appearance to participate in laying of a cornerstone at Michigan Tech Branch, where his capital construction program is providing the first new building since the state took over the former Fort Brady for an institution of higher learning.

The trip set the tone for his last eight days of campaigning as he concentrates in outstate areas after spending much of his earlier time in populous Wayne County.

Charter Issue

It's Romney's only Upper Peninsula tour of the election season. He was able to repeat Friday's announcement that much of the section has been designated by the federal government at Romney's request as an emergency cattle feed area eligible for cut rate feed because of crop losses.

The governor told a sellout Republican dinner crowd of 300 Friday night that benefits of the new constitution would be lost if the government is turned over to his opponent, U.S. Rep. Neil Staebler.

Romney described Staebler as "a man who didn't want the constitution, doesn't like it and called it 'a prescription for trouble'."

"It is inconceivable, after what we've been through in this state, that the people would turn things back to those who got us into the mess we had," declared Romney. "If we lose, we're going to lose the progress we've made."

Praises Milliken

Romney was full of praise for his running mate, Sen. William Milliken of Traverse City. Mrs. Milliken accompanied Romney on a busy downtown handshaking tour before his speech.

Romney cautioned the Republicans against over-optimism, and pointed out that in 1962 he needed votes from 22 per cent of Democrats and 70 per cent of independents to win. Earlier Friday, the governor campaigned intensively in Detroit's 17th Congressional District, a swing area where Republican fortunes have risen in recent years.

Monday he'll visit Massachusetts for three speeches in payment of Massachusetts Atty. Gen. Edward Brooke's recent Michigan appearances. Tuesday Romney and other Republican candidates will open a three-day south-state sweep from Detroit to Niles and back again.

Young Democrat Quits, Says He's For Goldwater

MARQUETTE—The head of the Young Democrats club of Northern Michigan university, deposed after he voted for Barry Goldwater by absentee ballot, said Friday that he plans to work with Young Republicans for election of the GOP presidential nominee.

Jeff Mirate, 22, a senior from Schenectady, N. Y., admitted he had cast an absentee ballot for Goldwater in his home town. He was asked to resign after the action was exposed.

Mirate said he had been a strong supporter of President Johnson last spring, but "after studying the situation and thinking things over I decided that Goldwater was the best thing for the country."

Mirate said he didn't resign earlier "because I thought if I quit, it would break up the club."

Last Saturday, Mirate had helped to distribute thousands of pieces of literature supporting Johnson.

The next meeting will be held Nov. 23.

MARINER TOO, an unlimited hydroplane owned by Jim Herrington of Mariner Boat Co., Detroit, is shown here being lifted from the water at Escanaba Municipal Dock by a Har-nischfeger crane after making test runs in Little Bay de Noc Friday. The boat, piloted by Col. Warner Gardner, reached speeds of 150 miles per hour despite bad water conditions in parts of the bay. A considerable crowd of residents gathered at the lake front to watch the test runs, made as part of preliminary plans being made to hold an unlimited hydroplane boat race here next summer.

July 4 Tentative Date For Hydro Boat Race Here

The possibility of an unlimited hydroplane boat race off the Escanaba beaches of Little Bay de Noc grew stronger Friday after test runs of a Detroit boat and a confident presentation by Ervin Steiner Jr., president of Unlimited, Inc.

Steiner told a luncheon meeting of the Bay de Noc Regatta Association that a tentative date of July 4 has been set on the unlimited circuit for an Escanaba race.

He said the race could be staged for a $20,000 prize fund, "tow charges" of $500 for each boat that made a legal start, plus local expenses.

Area officials estimated that from $30,000 to $40,000 would be needed to promote the race, which if held would be called the Bay de Noc Cup.

Assuming go-ahead plans are approved by the Bay de Noc Regatta Association, a local corporation, similar to Escanaba's centennial corporation, would have to be formed to make a bid to the American Power Boat Association APBA for sanction of the race.

This, according to Steiner, upon whose recommendation much of the responsibility would rest, would be an easily surpassed formality.

Test Runs Made

Test runs yesterday and again early this morning were made on a trial race course by Mariner Two, a 30-foot, Rolls Royce powered craft owned by Detroit's Jim Herrington.

The boat, a red, white and blue beast which won the San Diego Cup in its last racing start, growled with 2,000 horsepower in its aluminum hull and ripped across Little Bay de Noc near the Municipal Dock, its "rooster tail" of white water trailing near 200 feet behind.

Some passes, according to driver Col. Warner Gardner, hit 150 miles per hour, despite engine difficulties and "ground swells" in the water beyond the end of Sand Point.

Gardner, a retired officer of the United States Air Force and a World War II fighter ace, said there was no reason a race couldn't be held here.

"The water is just like anywhere else," he said. "If you have winds and bad weather you can't run."

"We were delayed three hours on Lake Washington in Seattle this summer. Lake Tahoe, Nevada is as fine a course as you'll find anywhere, but when the winds blow you might just as well back up and head for the farm."

Had Water Problems

"Friday we would never have been able to run a complete race. Beyond the Light house (Sand Point Light) the swells were so great I had to back off to 80-90 miles per hour or I would have torn the boat apart."

"On race day — with the adrenalin running — we might have made it, but it wouldn't have been the kind of show the drivers and owners like to put on."

Friday, winds from a westerly direction brought choppy water to the bay beyond the tip of Sand Point, a section of water which would have to be used in a race for spectator reasons.

Gardner said that it appeared a northern wind — not uncommon in Escanaba during the summer months — would provide the best water for a race track. He indicated that dock facilities for boats and drivers with some additional work, would be adequate.

Engine difficulties, according to Mariner Two crew chief,

Marv Henrich, were caused by the cool weather.

"We never run in cold weather," Henrich said. "The engine is tuned for hot-weather racing. Gasoline doesn't vaporize under these conditions, fouling spark plugs."

In July, however, expectations would be for warmer afternoons.

Huge Crowd Expected

Steiner said that upwards of 50,000 people could be expected to come to Escanaba for an unlimited race. New Town, a North Dakota city not much larger than Rapid River, held the Dakota Cups last August and attracted 100,000.

For that race, drivers and owners had to stay in Minot, a distance of 75 miles from the race course on Garrison Reservoir.

At the noon meeting Frank Russell, publisher of the Daily Press, the Marquette Mining Journal, the Iron Mountain News and owner of four U. P. radio stations, offered unlimited promotion space in his publications and said, as a retired Naval officer, he would do everything possible to guarantee an appearance of the Blue Angels, the Navy's crack fighter team, at a July 4 race.

Romney For Governor

Democratic hopes in Michigan ride on the chance that President Johnson might pull Neil Staebler into the governor's office. Short of that Romney is favored to win.

Staebler was an architect of Soapy Williams' long tenure (6 terms) in the governor's office and with the defeat of Soapy's heir, John B. Swainson, after one year in the governor's office, Staebler tossed his own hat into the ring. He is described to the nation by the Saturday Evening Post in its current appraisal of the national election prospects Nov. 3 as "lackluster" while Romney is described as "the kind of energetic new leader the party needs" and a potential presidential candidate.

The voter can compare the records of the two men as well as their ideas. Staebler has served for the past two years as Michigan's congressman-at-large; an office which is expiring with reapportionment. Romney is completing his first term as governor of Michigan, an office which he sought after resigning as president of the American Motor Corp., which he and his team saved from bankruptcy.

The political philosophy of the two men is very different. Romney favors free enterprise to stimulate the economy. Staebler stresses government action for this end, although the process increases tax burdens and leads inevitably to socialization of the economy. Staebler stresses what government has done for the people—the tax cut, etc. Romney stresses what encouragement of the economy has done for state government, so that it could spend more on the people.

In Romney's 2 years an inherited deficit of $85 million has been turned into a $57 million surplus—not all by his efforts, obviously—but with a powerful assist in boom conditions. Romney has helped to give Michigan a new image outside the state and it has been of great aid to Michigan's industrial resurgence.

Romney could not be a great governor if he were concerned only with money matters, but he knows that the state's ability to serve its citizens well rests on a fiscal foundation.

With Michigan doing its bookkeeping in black ink again under his leadership it has spent more money for education than ever before, created a statewide scholarship program, provided more facilities and services for the mentally ill, more help for youths in trouble, more help for senior citizens, higher welfare payments and expanded program, a huge state institutional building program, and a new research fund to develop uses for state resources.

Romney was a leader in calling and conducting the Constitutional Convention. Its implementation is underway to give Michigan basic improvements in its state government, as well as financial stability and adequate services. Romney hasn't been able to effect full fiscal reform yet, but he has done so much, given Michigan such a bright new look and prospects that his availability is one of the biggest bargains Michigan voters have had in state history.

Reciprocity

The Upper Peninsula and Northern Wisconsin have much in common. Their people travel through each others territory daily without consideration of the state line.

There is a keen affiliation between the areas because of long time friendships and many family relationships.

Because of this close relationship there is good reason for the lawmakers in Lansing and those in Madison to give serious consideration to more laws on reciprocity between the states, particularly affecting the northern areas of both states.

Such exchange has long prevailed in the field of conservation. The law enforcement agencies of both states in this field have long worked together as blood brothers.

Now is the time for both states to work together for reciprocity and equalization in other fields, such as sales taxes on food and medicine and general equalization to permit trafficking in general goods between the states without tax impediment.

We hope that Governor Romney will make this issue an objective of his administration.

The beer price tax differential between the two states is a particular item of irritation in the western end of the Upper Peninsula. Cooperation between the states can remove this tax irritant and expedite the friendly flow of business across the state line.

Thirty Years Ago

Ten Years Ago
A large bull moose was found washed up on the shores of Big Bay de Noc yesterday. Conservation officers have not yet been able to determine the cause of the animal's death.

The Rev. Fr. Owen J. Bennett former pastor of All Saints church at Gladstone, died today at the Hancock Medical Center. He was 76 years old. During his residence here he was instrumental in establishing All Saints school and convent.

This has been an off year for the Escanaba High School gridders and the climax was reached today when they fell prey to the Menominee Marines 45-7.

Twenty Years Ago

Mrs. A. J. Carlton, of Escanaba, has been writing verse ever since she was a child and only recently was persuaded to submit some of her work for publication. As a result, some of her poems are now included in a national anthology.

George N. King, a former resident of Escanaba and a son of Bert L. King, of 412 S. 7th St., is now a member of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

Drilling for oil in Schoolcraft county, started near the Alphonse Versure farm in Hiawatha township some time ago, but soon discontinued, has been resumed, a bit farther north.

Earl Steimert, of Wells, today learned of the whereabouts of his brother, whom he doesn't recall ever seeing. He learned the whereabouts of his brother Stewart Bangeman, by tracing his war record. The two were left orphans when they were infants and were taken up for adoption. Bangeman is a rancher in Texas and the two plan a reunion next spring.

Walter W. Thompson, born in Garden in 1862, and for many years a merchant at Oyster, died today at the home of a daughter in Gladstone.

A capacity crowd, estimated at more than 1,500 crowded into the Coliseum and listened to Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg. It was a Republican crowd reminiscent of old times.

"What Vital Issue Will We Refrain From Discussing Today, Men?"

CHARLES WERNER, INDIANAPOLIS STAR

Finding The Way Time To Take Stock

By RALPH W. LOEW, D. D.

There are strident voices being raised in many places of the earth. Angry men shout "Yankee go home," and we seem confused. Missionaries have given of themselves for many years and churches have sent millions of dollars. Is all of this worth nothing?

It would be nice if we could quickly say that there is no problem, but that would be less than honest. A Roman Catholic priest, Father Albert Nevins, pinpointed the problem when he told of bewildered missionaries, men who had given of their years to help people in primitive areas, now being driven by these people whom they had tried to help. Almost overnight, men who had been regarded as "children" are prime ministers and ambassadors. Said the priest: "The old missionary was accused of paternalism, of cultural imperialism, of subservience to colonial powers, of deliberately helping to train an army of clerks, but no leaders." This is the generalization often used as supporting evidence for isolationism.

A Lutheran leader, Dr. James Scherer, underscores the same predicament, indicating the inability of many foreign missionaries to give guidance to control or to guide the mighty revolutionary forces unleashed in the world.

"In Asia and Africa the existence of younger churches represents only a partial, though by no means inconsequential effort of the preaching of the gospel. Often, these churches give the appearance of conservative institutions wedded to the status quo and clinging to cherished securities. The kingdom of God contracts to a narrow ecclesiastical world, its horizon extending no farther than church work."

A few such voices and the isolationist seems to have won the day. But is this the answer? That isn't what these understanding and perceptive leaders are saying. They insist that the new world revolution demands that we be as creative and dedicated as the gospel we preach. It's really not a matter of deciding whether or not we're going to send something Or send ourselves.

We're shocked when we learn that 38 residents watch the rape of a young woman and refuse to do anything about involving ourselves in the tragedy. Yet there are always those who act as though we could do that for our world, standing about satisfying our own hungers, or slamming the door on any involvement, while we kid ourselves into thinking that we're safe in our "apartment house" of this continent.

"We've made mistakes but that doesn't release us from involvement, either in our neighborhoods or in the larger community of this planet. So it's a time to reexamine our attitudes, our goals and our strategy of action. It's no time to run for the hills."

Centuries ago a murderer could ask, "Am I my brother's keeper?" Christ underscored another dimension of the same question when he told of a man crossing cultural and racial lines to help a fellow human being. That's the reality to refurbish now.

There are tough new problems confronting men of faith and there are troublemakers stirring up angry voices everywhere. It's enough to make a person say, "Let's stay home." Yet our world is our home. It's ours to discuss results. It's ours to reflect our faith. The rest is not our business.

Washington Comment

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Campaign with Sen. Barry Goldwater for any fair length of time and you begin to be struck by a major irony.

That irony is that one of the facets of his public performance which most accounted for his winning the Republican presidential nomination now looms as his biggest obstacle to election.

Goldwater, despite a reserved speaking style, is the master of the extravagant attack—and millions of Republicans have a special love for the punishing assault. Yet this very extravagance is the source of the senator's difficulties with many voters.

Having watched political audiences for a generation, this reporter feels safe in saying that Republicans, uniquely, find intense pleasure in hearing the Democratic opposition torn to pieces.

Goldwater, more than any other Republican in the last 30 years, suits this appetite for fire and brimstone.

Listening to him in this campaign, highly charged partisans applaud only perfunctorily when he unravels a calm argument on some such subject as defense spending. But the hall explodes when he says of the Johnson administration:

"They have a wishbone where they need a backbone." Goldwater's listeners plainly love best the weapons of scorn and ridicule, which he is adept at using. They root derisively at the mere mention of the names of leading Democrats, from President Johnson to Sen. Hubert Humphrey to Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman and beyond. At one stop, even the capital city of Washington evoked sarcastic laughter.

All of this has been well remarked this season. And it can be argued that the "outs" necessarily are committed to heavy assaults on the "ins" if they are to score.

But neither Goldwater nor 1964 are ordinary in this respect.

Haines Elected Vice President Of U. P. Group

The Upper Peninsula Hospital Council meeting in Escanaba on Wednesday elected John F. Edmondson, administrator of the Francis A. Bell Memorial Hospital, Ishpeming, as president. The organization represents 19 U. P. hospitals. Edmondson will assume his duties as of Jan. 1.

Dr. Kenneth J. Shouldice, administrator of the War Memorial Hospital, Sault Ste. Marie, retiring president, was praised for his work with the organization in the past year.

The Upper Peninsula Hospital Auxiliaries met at the same time. Mrs. Harriet Rosenbaum, president, reported on the activities of the local hospital auxiliaries. Mrs. Herbert E. Norris, state president of the auxiliaries addressed the group on leadership, orientation and projects.

Letters To Ann Landers The Press School Nurses Are Hardboiled?

WHITE HOUSE TALE

When I was much younger I was intrigued with the romanticism of Sir Walter Scott and other writers of that school. Another romantic story which intrigued and inspired me was Robin Hood. I was too young to understand that Robin Hood, who stole from the rich to give to the poor was simply an outlaw, a man who had taken the law into his own hands, and that the law had placed a price upon his head.

I was reminded of this story by a statement which the Man from Texas made in the White House, Jan. 15, 1964. He said "We are going to try to take all of the money that we think is unnecessarily being spent, and take it from the haves and give it to the have nots that need it so much."

I am one of the "have nots." My holdings fall far short of the $3 million which President Johnson has declared as the value of his holdings. And I suppose that I, as so many others, should be elated that there is a Robin Hood in the White House, who proposes to take from the "haves and give it to the have nots."

The fact is that I cannot help but look askance at such a modus operandi. To me it seems that stealing is stealing, whether it is done by men holding high office and in the guise of being public benefactors, or is done by a highwayman carrying a gun. No one has the right, even though he may be a politician in high office to stick greasy fingers into another man's purse and thus violate the commandment: "Thou shalt not steal."

Any time anyone takes from another, against that person's will, what is rightly his, it becomes a violation of the divine commandment. Thoreau of Walden Pond fame was once told that the legislature of Massachusetts was to convene on a certain day. Thoreau's reaction to this statement was "Then I had better get home and lock the doors of my house." I wonder what Thoreau would have said had he lived in this present hour of the nation's travail.

A man must himself have the privilege to use what is his own, and with this privilege comes also the responsibility of how he uses it. Neither the privilege nor the responsibility may be assumed by another.

Perhaps our criticism of Robin Hood in the White House would not be so severe had he not under cloak of serving the nation, feathered his own nest and become a multimillionaire. The spirit of Robin Hood does not appeal to us any longer.

Dear Ann Landers: I disagree with you about school nurses. In our school the only way a kid can get sent home is if the coroner pronounces him officially dead.

Last year during a measles epidemic the school nurse wouldn't let anybody go home no matter how sick they were. When I nearly passed out the teacher sent me to the nurse. She told me to lie down on the cot for half an hour. When the nurse left the room, I got up and phoned my mother. Mom came to get me and I had a temperature of 104 degrees.

The way you sided with the school nurse makes me think you must have been a school nurse yourself before you were Ann Landers. True or false?—HOOSIER.

Dear Hoosier: False. I was never a school nurse but I did try (unsuccessfully) to fool a few school nurses in my day.

The mail on this subject has been running 20 to 1 against me. I'm ready to admit there must be some pretty hard-boiled school nurses around—or that you kids have a mighty strong union.

Dear Ann Landers: Jack and I have been married 16 years. We have two children in school. My husband is the only son who has allowed his father to run his life. His older brothers moved out of town (lucky people) but we are stuck because Jack works for his father. His hope is that he will one day inherit the business but he has nothing in writing.

Jack's hours are killing. In fact he has NO hours. He is in the store morning, noon and night. He draws no salary. His father does out whatever he feels like giving—and it's never enough. We are forever stalling bill collectors and I am sick of it. The business does well and there is no reason for my father-in-law to be so tight.

I have begged my husband to stand up like a man and tell his father he wants a salary, part ownership and an annual vacation but he says "Not yet." What can I do?—SOUND AND FURY.

Dear Sound: Your husband's dependency on his father is an old and a sick story. You need a third party to help put this papa-sonny boy relationship on a business basis.

Does your husband have an attorney? If not, he should engage one. As a starter, the attorney should be hired to draw up your husband's will. Then

In 1862, Richard Gatling, an inventor, succeeded in perfecting a gun which could fire 350 shots per minute, but the War Between the States was almost over before the federal government consented to use it.

Safety Topic Of Soo Hill PTA Meeting

Sixty-two interested parents heard Dr. James Dehlin of Gladstone speak at the Oct. PTA meeting of the Soo Hill Elementary School, on the "Prevention of Accidents Involving Children and Adults." Startling statistics revealed that "accidents are a number one killer of ages one through 39 years of age. In children one through 14 years, accidents are responsible for 40 per cent of all deaths of this age group, he said.

"The most prevalent hazards in age to one year were burns and falls occurring to unattended children along with the aspiration of small foreign objects. Hazards in the one-five year group involved poisons, aspirin, intoxication, insecticides, kerosene, furniture polish, bleaches, adult medications etc. Drowning in bath water and yard pools occur because of unattendance. Death by suffocation may be due to an abandoned refrigerator or carelessly placed plastic garment wrapping," Dr. Dehlin continued.

"Prevention? Cleaning supplies, heating fluids, medications, must be well labeled and kept out of reach, small objects removed from babies and toddlers living areas. Play pens should be used more adequately. Earliest possible instruction concerning dangers of fire, hot liquids and proper use of medication, should be given. Babies and small children, especially, should never be left unattended in hazardous surroundings."

Older Youth

Older youth's deaths are attributed to alcohol, motor scooters, drownings, improper use of guns, greatly due to lack of early education, he observed.

Dr. Dehlin cited the various organizations responsible for safety education—the Scouting program, 4-H clubs, Safety Patrols, summer swimming instruction, school programs, drivers training.

In closing Dr. Dehlin stressed the need for the public to demand safer cars. "We receive the designs we desire, an abundance of chrome, fancy dash boards with sharp buttons, a potential killer in the steering wheel design, a shimmering paint job which creates

Mrs. Marvin Nelson (Ridings Photo)

Donna Mae VanDrese, Marvin Nelson Wed

Father Thomas M. Andary, pastor, solemnized the double ring ceremony in Holy Family Church, Flat Rock, today, at which Donna Mae VanDrese became the bride of Marvin Nelson. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert VanDrese and Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Nelson Sr., of Cornell.

The 11 a.m. service will be followed by a reception from 4 to 8 p.m. at the Eagle's Hall in Escanaba, followed by a wedding dance.

The bride's floor length gown with chapel train of French Chantilly lace, was styled with extraordinary bouffant of skirt, scalloped hemline and a garland of roses which encircled the waistline. The neckline also was scalloped and the sleeves tapered to points over the wrist. Her Swedish type crown with dainty seed pearl scroll, highlighted with aurora crystals, held her three-tier elbow length butterfly veil of imported English nylon illusion.

Her flowers were a cascade of yellow mums and white feathered mums. She was escorted by her father, who gave her in marriage.

Mint Green

Dresses of mint green nylon sheer over acetate taffeta were worn by her attendants. The gowns, with satin spaghetti

Flower Girl

Completing the bridal party were cousins of the bride, Marlene Kutches, flower girl, and Dana VanDrese, Soo Hill, ring bearer. Marlene's dress was designed and made by Mrs. Albert Valind, an aunt of the bride. It was of white embroidered taffeta with tiered floor length skirt, three-quarter length sleeves and a pointed collar edged with lace, which dipped lower in the back, with a long satin bow. She carried a wicker basket of bronze and yellow pompons. Her headpiece was of the same flowers and she also wore a miniature gold cross, the bride's gift.

Altar flowers were fall shades of gladiolus and pompons and similar flowers will be used in the reception decor. For the wedding and reception Mrs. VanDrese chose a light blue two-piece lace dress with royal blue accessories and crystal jewelry. Her corsage is white and light blue pompons. Mrs. Nelson is wearing a gray ensemble with black accessories and a corsage of autumn shades of pompons.

Mrs. Henry Menard, an aunt of the bride, who made the wedding cake, will serve it at the reception, Sandy King will pour and Maxine VanDrese is in charge of the guest book.

The newlyweds will reside in Cornell when they return from their wedding trip.

Graduation will take a heavy toll of Escanaba football players this year. Coach Jerry Cvangros has 22 seniors on his squad which is making its final home appearance of the season against Kingsford this afternoon. The entire starting backfield and most of the front line are seniors.

The list of players who will be graduating from the 1964 squad includes Ron Andrews, Brent Baum, Peter Benson, Dave Boileau, Bill Boyce, Chuck Brookes, Jim Clairmont, Marvin Coon, John Ferrari, Mike Gafner, Gerald Hanson, Jim Johnson, Ricky Johnson, Steve Johnson, Mark Miller, Paul Neumeier, Terry Lindstrom, Carl Olson, Mike Olson, Tom Olson, Dick Rusa and Bill Sarnowski.

Holy Name has a similar situation with 17 seniors on this year's squad, including almost all of the starting eleven. The Crusader seniors are Tom Almonroeder, Tom Bartol, Jim Bonifas, Eugene Fregetto, Mike Kidd, John Lark, Tom Mein, Bill Menard, Jim Shandonay, Bob Sullivan, Frank Trotter, Paul Kangas, Bill O'Connell, Dan Sabor, Pat Sinclair, Dan Scopp, John D'Amour and Bill Lantagne.

At Manistique, where Coach Dick Bonifas is guiding his Emeralds on an undefeated path thus far this season, the seniors also dominate the picture. Manistique has 22 players who will see their final football action in the Holy Name windup next Saturday. They are Steve Bauman, Eric Blomquist, Bob Bontekoe, Darryl Carlson, Cliff Cool, Dave Demers, John Doyle, Tom Derwin, Ken Fagan, Dave Gilroy, Mike Gray, Paul Harris, Bill Hentschell, Rickard Hoholik, Jim Hubbell, Don Lee, Fred LaMuth, Marshall Patz, Paul Perry, Joel Peterson, Wayne Sample and Rod Weber.

Gladstone's 16 seniors, including most of the starters, will be wearing their Braves colors for the last time next Saturday against L'Anse. In that list are Jay Knutsen, Mike Gobert, Bruce Hardwick, Brian Martin, Keith Burch, Rick Ebbeson, Ed Caswell, Jim Carlson, Mike Bruntjens, Dick Roman, Dick Balding, Bruce Heslip, Jim Ridings, David Gereau, Nathan Sloan and Gary Englund.

Hoosiers Make Experience Pay Off In Victory

By The Associated Press

Experience paid off for Indiana against Miami Friday night in the opening of a weekend of college football programs filled with conference title significance and bowl aspirations.

For the second straight week, the Big Ten Hoosiers came up with a big fourth quarter and defeated Miami's green, casualty-ridden Hurricanes 24-14.

In another major encounter Friday night, Garry Lyle turned in scoring runs of 59 and 47 yards as George Washington separated William and Mary from a share of the Southern Conference lead, 21-0. West Virginia, facing Penn State today, now holds the undisputed top spot.

Tom Beer, a yearling end, was the most instrumental in a 21-6 Detroit victory over Dayton and ended a Titan three-game losing streak. Beer forced and recovered a fumble at the Dayton 29 setting up the first score, then caught two successive passes for 48 yards to notch the second.

Young Miami carried a 14-7 lead into the final period against Indiana only to see the visitors stage a three-touchdown comeback. Hoosier quarterback Rick Badar tossed 25 and 27 yard touchdown passes to Bill Malinchuk. Then fullback Tom Nowatzke, who collected the game's first score, tallied the last on a seven-yard burst.

Today, top-ranked Ohio State, obvious insider for the Big Ten crown and Rose Bowl trip, had an important league date with Wisconsin at Columbus, where the Badgers haven't won since 1918. Conference co-leader Purdue faced Iowa and the passes of Gary Snook while Minnesota-Michigan — the regionally televised Little Brown Jug battle — and Michigan State-Northwestern also were on tap.

Other regional TV games were Iowa State-Missouri, Louisiana State-Tennessee and Harvard-Dartmouth. LSU is the seventh-ranked team in the nation but the biggest Southeastern Conference test matched the Tigers' fellow unbeaten SEC pacesetter: No. 9 Florida at No. 3 Alabama.

Notre Dame, second only to the Buckeyes, faced Stanford in a heavy favorite. Fourth-ranked Arkansas had a non-league engagement with Wichita, sixth-rated Texas was at Rice where it hasn't managed a victory in 10 years.

Nebraska, No. 5, was in Big Eight action against Colorado while attention also was on the Kansas-Oklahoma State duel.

Eighth-ranked Syracuse played tough Oregon State and Florida State, No. 10, had a much easier assignment — maybe — at Virginia Tech.

Unbeaten Duke was at Army. Navy encountered Pitt and Air Force visited Boston College.

UCLA was at Illinois but in the Far West the ones that count toward the Rose Bowl were California against Southern Cal and unbeaten Oregon to Washington.

Bullets Bought For One Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Baltimore Bullets of the National Basketball Association have been purchased by three Washington men for an amount upwards of $1 million.

The purchase, subject to approval by the NBA board of governors, was made by Earl Foreman, executive vice president of the Philadelphia Eagles football team; Arnold Heft, builder and former professional basketball referee, and Abe Pollin, also a builder.

The Washington Post said it was learned that the Bullets will stay in Baltimore. Plans also call for Buddy Jeannette to continue as coach.

Olympic Chief Favors Change

TOKYO (AP) — Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee, wants to get rid of one of the Games most solidly entrenched rituals — the victory ceremony.

He doesn't want national flags raised and anthems played after medal performances in the various sports because they only help to generate extreme nationalism, he told a press conference Saturday.

"In the first place, the national anthems are badly played," the Chicago hotel owner said. "They are also monotonous, and I think it would be better to play some sort of Olympic song."

Brundage, beginning another four-year term as head of the IOC, admitted that extreme nationalism was affecting the spirit of the Games and should be discouraged in every way possible.

"There is one country which openly admits that its athletes are political agents," he said. "This is one thing that we cannot accept." He declined to name the country.

In a specially called press conference just before closing ceremonies of the 18th Games, Brundage also said:

1. He hoped it would be possible to keep Germany as a combined team despite the action this week of the International Amateur Athletic Federation to split the country into two sports units — East Germany and Germany.

2. South Africa presents a thorny problem because its political leaders do not agree with the sports federation, but South Africa still is a member of the IOC and could compete at Mexico City in 1968.

3. There was no way to unite the Korean team because South Korea and North Korea are in virtual state of war.

4. The Olympics were founded as a contest of individuals and team sports, such as basketball and soccer, have no place on the program. He personally favors their elimination but is repeatedly voted down by the IOC.

5. The Games, just closing, were the largest and most successful ever staged and Japanese organizers have been honored with the highest awards for their work.

Russians Beat U.S. Athletes In Medal Total

TOKYO (AP) — The Games of the 18th Olympiad, marked by the resurgence of the United States as a world athletic power and the uncertain staggering of the sports giant that was Russia, closed today in solemn ceremonies that summoned the athletes to gather again in Mexico City four years from now.

Only one event, equestrian grand prix jumping, was on the final program. Germany won the team title and a Frenchman the individual crown, leaving the standings of the United States and Russia undisturbed.

The United States collected the most gold medals, 36, and Russia captured the most overall, 96. Only a frantic gathering of medals by its gymnasts and boxers on the next-to-last day pushed the Russians into the lead, 96-90, and that was far off their 1960 total of 103 and their goal of 110 for these Games.

Many of the athletes, particularly the winners who were anxious to get home and show off their souvenirs, had departed when the Olympic flag was lowered and the flame in the Olympic torch extinguished during brief, but impressive ceremonies before the Emperor and Empress of Japan today.

A massed choir sang Auld Lang Syne and the message "Let us meet again at Mexico City four years hence," flashed on the electric scoreboard that had recorded 14 days of competition between nearly 8,000 athletes from 94 countries.

The closing ceremony lasted about an hour. Flagbearers of the 94 competing nations and those athletes remaining in Japan were in a procession.

Then came the flags of Greece — where the games originated — and of Japan, the host nation, and of Mexico where the next Olympics will be staged.

Avery Brundage, the Chicago hotel executive who recently was elected to another four-year term as president of the International Olympic Committee, in a brief address called for nations to address their loyalty to the Olympic movement.

"The International Olympic Committee needs...that governments, which have awakened to its achievements, bow before the neutrality of sport and support it in the only appropriate spirit.

"A thousand other fields are theirs for the display of their prestige; only one gives them the opportunity to bear testimony to their true good will: the Olympic movement."

Then, in darkness, the flame that had been lit by a torch first ignited at Mount Olympus in Greece, was extinguished in the Olympic torch and the choir sang the Olympic hymn.

Top Prep Teams Suffer Upsets

By The Associated Press

The mightiest teams among Michigan's top-rated high school football eleven got some lumps Friday night in the action around the state.

Bay City Central, No. 1 in The Associated Press Class A ratings, was held to a 13-13 tie by Midland after a string of five straight victories.

Top-ranked Portland of Class C-D suffered its first defeat in six games when nosed out by sixth-ranked Elsie, 13-12, while flubbing its two touchdown conversion attempts.

Hillsdale, second-rated in Class B, was drubbed by fifth-ranked Albion, 26-0.

Kingsford, the No. 1 Class B team, was idle after seven prior victories.

Midland snatched the tie with Bay City Central on a three-yard touchdown plunge by halfback Phil Leigib in the last seven seconds that capped a 61-yard drive. Tom Osborne saved the tie for Central by knocking down Leigib on the 10-yard line on an attempted pitch play for the conversion.

Bay City Central and undefeated, fourth-ranked Flint Central meet next week.

Trailing 13-6 in the fourth period, Portland missed the tying conversion point after a touchdown when the Elsie defense rushed the passer. Portland had rammed over for a touchdown after recovering an Elsie fumble on Elsie's nine-yard line.

With the Wilson boys Karl and Ron, scoring all four touchdowns, Albion swamped Hillsdale in a show of power. Karl and Ron, who are unrelated, ran off personally with the game, the former catching two touchdowns passes from Ron Isaac and the latter running for his pair.

Ron Wilson scored his second touchdown on the last play of the game, intercepting a pass on his goal line and racing 100 yards through fans who had spilled out on the field in belief the game had ended.

Individual feats marked other games.

Richie Jordan scored six touchdowns as Fennville swamped Saugatuck 62-25. Art Martz kicked a 20-yard field goal for Roseville's 3-0 triumph over Mount Clemens.

Win Over Newberry Deadlocks Eskymos

MANISTIQUE—The Manistique Emeralds shouldered their way through the door to the Great Lakes Conference throne room here Friday night by crushing Newberry 46-6.

The triumph gave Coach Dick Bonifas' Emeralds a final 6-0 record in the conference. That matches Escanaba's 1,000 percentage, based on a 5-0 record for the Eskymos.

The tie for the conference championship puts the crown on Manistique's head for the first time since their double victory in 1958-59.

Although the Indians

managed to dent Manistique's goal line for a rare touchdown, the Emeralds still maintained the best defensive record in the Upper Peninsula. The Newberry TD was the first allowed by Manistique since the season opener which was won by the Emeralds, 7-6, over Stephenson.

Nine Runners

The Emeralds completely dominated the game in all departments while registering their seventh overall victory of the campaign.

With nine different backs taking turns, Manistique ripped off 212 yards and scored three running touchdowns. Jerry Belleville was the top ground gainer in the balanced attack with 70 yards in 13 trips.

Doug Nelson and Darryl Carlson alternated at quarterback and combined to complete 7 of 13 tosses for 103 yards and three touchdowns.

Turning in a brilliant defensive game for Manistique was Joel Peterson, a 5 foot 7 inch, 132 pound safety who intercepted three Newberry aeriels and returned one of them for a touchdown. The Emeralds blanked Newberry in the passing department. Newberry tried nine tosses and failed to connect.

Drive For TD

Manistique picked up 10 first downs rushing, four passing and one on penalty. The Indians had two first downs rushing and two on penalties. Dan Watson and Larry Erkan-talo shared Newberry's 55 yards rushing.

The Emeralds took the opening kickoff and drove 60 yards in 10 plays with Lee banging over from the 1 and Belleville running the point to make it 7-0.

The Indians ran the following kickoff back to the Emeralds 25, dug to the 7 and stalled. On the next play, however, they recovered a Manistique fumble and scored in two plays, Watson going over from the 1 to make it 7-6.

Gray Makes Catch

Dave Demars recovered a Newberry fumble on the final play of the period and Manistique drove 23 yards in six plays. Nelson tossed the final 13 yards to Mike Gray who made a spectacular leaping catch in the end zone. Belleville's point boosted the margin to 14-6.

Late in the half Peterson intercepted at midfield and five plays later Belleville crashed over for the TD, added the point and Manistique led 21-6.

Midway in the third, Manistique took over on the Newberry 30 following a punt and Lee tallied his second TD from the 8 yard line to make it 27-6.

Peterson intercepted again and romped 40 yards to the Newberry 30. Two plays later Carlson flipped a 9 yard scoring pass to Demars, Greg Soukup plunged for the point and Manistique led 34-6.

Late in the fourth quarter Peterson hooked another Newberry pass and ran 32 yards to paydirt to make it 40-6 with 1:45 remaining.

Holy Name Next

Ed Leonard hopped on a Newberry fumble on the 28 yard line a minute later. The Emeralds went all the way on the following play, Carlson passing to Demars for the TD to make it 46-6 with 22 seconds left in the game.

The setback was Newberry's sixth against one win and one tie.

Manistique will close out its season at Holy Name Saturday.

United States Jumping Leader

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — The United States and Canada battle for the unofficial team championship in the international jumping competition of the Pennsylvania National Horse Show tonight.

The U.S. pulled ahead of the Canadians for the first time Friday night after a bewildering turn of events that saw Pennsylvanian officials reverse themselves twice to snatch victory away from pretty Carol Hoffmann of North Branch, N.J.

Also to be decided in tonight's finale will be the individual battle between Jim Day of Toronto, Canada, and Neil Shapiro of Glen Head, N.Y., the two youngest riders in the international events.

With nine of the 10 events finished, the 18-year-old Day leads the 19-year-old Shapiro 42-40.

In the unofficial team standings, the United States leads with 80 points, followed by Canada with 72, Mexico 34, Argentina 14 and Brazil 4.

BOSS ANGEL ON A VISIT

NEW YORK (AP) — Gene Autry, chairman of the board of the Los Angeles Angels, dropped off here on the way home from the CBS-Yankee American League meeting in Boston and made notes of the Shea Stadium setup.

The Angels are building their own park in Anaheim, Calif. They will be Dodge tenants for the last time in 1965.

BIG BUILDING JOB — San Diego Chargers' tackle Ron Mix is generally acknowledged the best offensive lineman in the American Football League, but he wasn't always that big. He started at 220 pounds and built himself up to 250 with isometric and barbell exercises.

World Title Fight Is Off

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — San Antonio lost what would have been its first world's championship fight when Jesus Pimentel, who was to meet bantamweight champion Eder Jofe, closed his training camp and went back to California.

His manager, Harry Kabakoff, said Friday that Pimentel withdrew because he feared he would lose his license for life in California.

The fight was scheduled for next Wednesday night here.

There were other reasons advanced. The San Antonio News said Kabakoff and promoter George Parnassus argued over a demand that $15,000 be given Pimentel before the fight. Kabakoff said he had been notified by the California Athletic Commission that if he went through with the Jofe fight not only he and Pimentel, but anyone connected with it, such as seconds, trainers and such, would draw suspensions.

The two units of the Escanaba League of Women Voters will meet next week to hear a program on the United Nations to be given by Mrs. Lucille Ulrich, chairman and her committee members Mrs. Marvin Pearson and Miss Hilja Karpinen.

The Monday evening unit will meet at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. N. L. Lindquist and the Wednesday morning unit will meet at 9:15 at the home of Mrs. James Fitzharris. Mrs. Ulrich and her committee will describe briefly the structure and functions of the U. N., and will bring members up to date on U. N. since the formation of that peacekeeping body, and have taken a position in support of the U. N.

Putnam Named P&H Engineer

Harnischfeger Corp. announced today that Melvin E. Putnam has joined the company as chief engineer for truck crane manufacturing engineering division. He will reside in Escanaba.

As chief engineer Putnam is responsible for utilization of new engineering developments in manufacturing, testing and evaluating of new product model prototypes, liaison between manufacturing and engineering and the redesign of truck crane carriers to reduce cost and facilitate manufacturing.

Putnam joins Harnischfeger after five years as assistant vice president and chief engineer of Crane Carrier Corp. of Tulsa. He is a graduate of the University of Tulsa and has a bachelor of science degree in engineering physics.

His appointment is the most recent change in the Escanaba truck crane plant staff.

Other appointments in the past year include Robert A. Meier as quality control manager; Eugene Kelly, night superintendent; William P. Stewart, superintendent of manufacturing services; Arthur K. Hartson, machining superintendent. Truck crane plant manager Raymond O. Fisi said that the realigning has been carried out over a period of time to simplify reporting and responsibility channels.

Stewart, superintendent of manufacturing services, includes material control and storage, production control, plant maintenance and industrial engineering among his responsibilities. He is a graduate of the University of Indiana and did post graduate work at the Illinois Institute of Technology. Stewart joined Harnischfeger in 1953 from Republic Steel Corp. Stewart became a resident of Escanaba in September, 1963.

Machining division superintendent Arthur K. Hartson is responsible for all machining heat treat and salvage operations at the Escanaba truck crane plant. A graduate apprentice, he spent 15 years in such capacities as tool room foreman, repair division foreman and large machine foreman before moving to Escanaba in November 1963.

Meier, a Harnischfeger employee since 1946, came to Escanaba last January as quality control manager. Prior to moving here he had been an assistant service manager and a construction and mining division sales representative in both Duluth and Philadelphia. As quality control manager Meier is responsible for inspection and testing of truck cranes prior to shipment.

The new night superintendent, Eugene Kelly, was named to that position in August of 1964. He is also a veteran employee, having started with Harnischfeger in 1942. He had been assistant weld shop superintendent prior to his new position.
